- When do we use the 'Be' verb in English? When do we NOT use the 'Be' verb in English? Study the Grammar Chart below!

✓ 'Be' verb

	I	You	He/She/It	We	They
adjectives	I am tall.	You are tall.	He/She/It is tall.	We are tall.	They are tall.
nouns	I am a student.	You are a student.	He/She/It is a student.	We are students.	They are students.
prepositions	I am at home.	You are at home.	He/She/It is at home.	We are at home.	They are at home.
verbs + ing	I am studying.	You are studying.	He/She/It is studying.	We are studying.	They are studying.

✗ No 'Be' verb

	I	You	He/She/It	We	They
verbs	I work.	You work.	He/She/It works.	We work.	They work.

"I live (verb) in Abu Dhabi, and on weekends I like (verb) to play (verb) football with my friends.

I am in class (preposition + place) now because I am studying (verb + ing) English. I am a student (noun), so I am busy (adjective). I study (verb) English twenty hours a week."